

Prince George Woodturning Guild Meeting

December 18th, 2014

Members present:

Bob, Ron, Max, Ken, Greg, Art, Dale, Rory, George, Martin and Mark

Business

A number of older wood turning books were donated to the Guild. The guild's accounts are in good shape, however a number of cheques still have not cleared. Memberships will be renewed at the January meeting. Art brought in a piece of Cottonwood burl, a discussion was held on getting a group together in the spring to harvest more of this wood. There was a discussion held about House Insurance and whether or not we need to carry business insurance because we make and sell products. Individual members are going to investigate further.

Demonstration

Ron demonstrated coring using a McNaughton coring system and Ken demonstrated how to turn Christmas bells. Thanks to both

Wood draw

A successful wood draw was held, thank you Bob.
